For Act 1 To Repeal the Railroad Full-Crew Law

The only legislative question on the Nov. 7 ballot is Act 1, to repeal Arkansas' railroad full-crew law—and we urge you to vote FOR ACT 1.

Down through the years there have been repeated efforts to get rid of the full-crew handicap on railroad freight bills, but the voters, fixed in their habit, have turned back each repeal bill—until today Arkansas is the only one of the 50 states with this burdensome law still on its books.

That the law is burdensome is apparent to any citizen who takes time to examine the facts. A train leaving Missouri with a crew meeting the safety standards of 49 states upon entering Arkansas has to add two men to the crew until the train reaches Texas, where the two "extras" are dropped.

Railroad freight rates are paid indirectly by every Arkansas consumer—therefore it is the public which picks up the tab to give two men a free ride across our state.

How did such a foolhardy notion ever become law in Arkansas? you ask. The answer is simple enough. Back in hard times the railroad unions wanted to create as many jobs as possible, whether useful or not. The popular name of this malpractice is "featherbedding"—that is to say, the two extra men never leave the caboose as the freight train crosses Arkansas.

But in recent years the economic picture has changed drastically. Today there are more jobs in America than there are people to fill them—and this is as true for the railroads as it is for other industries.

If you want to know why this newspaper has consistently fought for repeal of the full-crew law I have a specific answer. Currently our consumption of newsprint (paper) is running at the rate of 120 tons a year. All of it moves by rail—meaning an annual freight bill of $1,374.22.

Rail freight rates have been increasing steadily. If the cost of "freeloading" two crewmen across our state is to continue then we can expect another rate increase.

The Star has but two options. It can (1) pay the railroad freight increase and pass it on to its subscribers and advertisers or (2) switch to truck delivery.

Loss of freight traffic won't help either the railroads or their trainmen.

But that's exactly how the cards will read when Arkansas voters shuffle the deck in the Nov. 7 election.

Vote FOR ACT 1.

Barker trial begins today

MIAMI (AP) — Two FBI agents, two bank officials and two state employees led the parade of witnesses to the stand today as Watergate defendant Bernard L. Barker went on trial on state charges.

FBI agents John E. Denton of Washington and John Cloberty of West Palm Beach identified a $25,000 campaign check made out to Kenneth Dahlberg, President Nixon's Midwest campaign finance chairman.

Barker, 55, a former Central Intelligence Agency operative, is accused of fraudulently notarizing Dahlberg's signature on the check without Dahlberg being present, a violation of state law.

The agents said they got the check from the First Bank and Trust Co. of Boca Raton, Fla.

Thomas P. Monahan, vice president of the bank, testified that Dahlberg purchased the check April 10.

Margery Stone, head of the bank's Collection Department, said she sold the check to Dahlberg and that he gave her the $25,000 cash.

Barker, along with four other men, was arrested last June inside the Democratic national headquarters at the Watergate complex in Washington. The five were later indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of breaking into the offices to steal documents and to install electronic bugs to intercept telephone and oral communications.

Democrats alleged the $25,000 was used by Barker to finance the political espionage.

The Barker case is being heard without a jury.

'Tricks' were not 'treats'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An elderly St. Louis man died after being robbed while on a trip to buy trick or treat candy. A New Jersey policeman suffered severe eye injuries in a Halloween prank. A firecracker cost a Tennessee man a burst eardrum.

These and other incidents Tuesday night marked the violent side of a holiday better known for pumpkins, costumes and happy children.

James Pelican, 79, a retired St. Louis restaurant owner, was returning home from a trip to the store with candy for youngsters on their Halloween rounds when he was accosted in an alley.

He returned to his home and told his wife he had just been robbed "by two fellows with knives." He then collapsed, apparently of a heart attack, police said. No trace was found of the robbers.

Police Sgt. Joseph Quinn in Somerville, N.J., suffered severe injuries to both eyes when a railroad tie tossed by pranksters from the railroad overpass crashed through the windshield of his car.

In Bristol, Tenn., Orville Man, 37, was grabbed by two boys as he walked on a street. They put a firecracker in his left ear and lit it. He was treated for a burst eardrum. The boys were not caught.

Five children out for trick or treat rounds in the Minneapolis suburb of Maple Grove were among 13 persons injured when an apparent gas explosion destroyed a home.

The costumed children were at the door when the explosion came. Seven of the injured were treated and released, the other six were hospitalized.

In Miami, police said two clown-costumed men wearing smiling masks and carrying orange-colored trick or treat bags held up a Farm Stores branch.

The woman clerk thought it was a prank until the men pulled and gun and demanded money from a cash register, police said.

A car pulling a 27-foot mobile home overturned about 5:15 p.m. yesterday (Tuesday) on I-30 about two miles west of the Highway 4 intersection and two persons were injured.

The State Police reported that a car driven by Floyd E. Wells, 77, of Hardy, was heading west in the left-hand lane and was passed by a tractor-trailer rig. Police said the wind from the truck caused Wells to lose control of his vehicle, which swerved and flipped over on its top in the ditch on the north side of the highway.

Wells and his wife were both treated for minor injuries at the Memorial Hospital here and then released. Traffic flow was hampered for about an hour, according to Robert Neal, state trooper, the investigating officer. The Wells auto and mobile home both received heavy damage.

Trudeau or Stanfield?

Power force in doubt

OTTAWA (AP) — Whether Pierre Elliott Trudeau or Robert Stanfield will be Canada's next prime minister remained in doubt today as political leaders and their advisers pondered the tightest general election battle in the nation's history.

Complete returns from Monday's vote gave Stanfield's Conservatives a one-seat edge — 100 to 108 — over Trudeau's Liberals in the new House of Commons. But the Conservatives were 25 seats short of a majority, and recounts in half a dozen close races could change the result.

It appeared unlikely that Prime Minister Trudeau would decide whether to relinquish the government reins he has held since 1968 until the recounts are completed.

The balance of power now lies with the socialistic New Democratic party, which won 30 seats. The Social Credit Party elected 15 members, all from Quebec, and two independents also won, completing the total of 344 members.

Trudeau was meeting with his Cabinet today to discuss the election outcome.

The prime minister could resign and let Stanfield form a minority government, or he could face Parliament and risk defeat by the combined opposition.

Most constitutional experts say Trudeau should face Parliament before resigning, but there are precedents for both courses of action.

Stanfield made clear that he is ready to assume power. He told a news conference Tuesday night that Trudeau "has lost the confidence of the people ... he should resign."

Liberal leaders offered a variety of reasons to explain their party's decline from 147 seats in the outgoing House to 108 and the Conservatives' comeback from 73 to 109.

Regional Expansion Minister Jean Marchand said the more affluent English-speaking provinces didn't like Trudeau's efforts to improve the lot of French-speaking Quebec and eastern Canada.

'Wired nation' plan is rejected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House says a secret suggestion to give the government a direct electronic link to every home and car in America was just one of many ideas that were rejected as too extreme before it even reached the planning stage.

And, said President Nixon's science adviser, the Democratic congressman who disclosed the proposal Tuesday was just seeking headlines.

Rep. William S. Moorhead, D-Pa., said the plan for a "wired nation" apparently was designed to provide the government with a disaster-warning system and a wide-scale means of dispensing various services.

Moorhead, a member of the House Committee on Government Operations, said the plan is also a blueprint for a government-operated propaganda and spy system. He called on the administration to let the nation know of the plan, which he said was prepared for Nixon's Domestic Council.

Cease-fire supervision is planned

WASHINGTON (AP) — While the United States maintains it won't be rushed into a peace in Indochina, arrangements are being made for an international force to supervise a cease-fire agreement.

Diplomatic sources said Tuesday that Canada, Indonesia, Hungary and Poland have agreed to provide 250 officers each toward the force, which the United States would like to see in place at the time a cease-fire becomes effective.

North Vietnam and the Viet Cong had demanded that the United States sign a nine-point peace agreement in Paris on Tuesday, but U.S. spokesmen said additional details had to be worked out and the day passed without a signing.

U.S. spokesmen also declined to encourage speculation in diplomatic circles that an agreement might be signed by Saturday or Sunday. Neither have they indicated when secret negotiations on the remaining details might be held.

"I am hopeful an agreement will be reached, but I'm not getting into any timetable," Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird told newsmen Tuesday.

'Quiet' delay in safe packaging approved by FDA

WASHINGTON (AP) — An unexpected shortage of child-proof containers has prompted the Food and Drug Administration to quietly delay the deadline for safety packaging of aspirin, dangerous drugs and certain liniments.

The notice, published without public announcement in the Federal Register a week ago, gives the nation's 55,000 retail pharmacists until Jan. 22, 1973, to comply.

The original deadline, based on a two-year-old law, had been Aug. 14 for aspirin, Sept. 21 for methyl salicylate or wintergreen oil, and Oct. 24 for 4,300 types of such controlled drugs as amphetamines, barbiturates and narcotics.

FDA officials said a field survey under way indicates that the packaging-supply backlog may be even more extensive, and that the deadline might have to be extended also for manufacturers of bottled aspirin, the leading cause of child poisonings.

"We just learned of the shortage recently," said Henry L. Verhuist, director of the chemical-hazards division in the FDA's Bureau of Product Safety. "Packaging producers just have not kept up with the demand."

The delay now affects only retail drugists, and covers more than one billion prescriptions they fill annually.

Leonard "Clay" Skak, an FDA pharmacist, said the shortage was compounded by pharmacists deciding to put all prescriptions in child-resistant containers.

The FDA itself aggravated the shortage in June when it urged drug companies "to voluntarily begin using special packaging for potentially hazardous over-the-counter drugs" rather than wait for government action.

The FDA's slow enforcement of the 1970 Poison Prevention Packaging Act, designed to cut down on the 500,000 accidental poisonings that kill up to 500 children each year, has drawn frequent criticism from Congress.

McG says Thieu is blocking a treaty

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. George McGovern said today he believes President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam is blocking a peace agreement, adding he has doubts President Nixon can bring off a settlement with North Vietnam.

Appearing on NBC's Today show McGovern said, in response to a question as to whether the chance for an agreement has been lost, that "My own guess is that Gen. Thieu is blocking the negotiations just as he did four years ago."

Asked if he had serious doubts that the U.S.-North Vietnamese peace plan will come off, he replied: "I do have doubts about it." But he said, he hopes that "somehow Mr. Nixon is going to be able to pull this off" before next Tuesday's election.

Mrs. Crit Stuart Jr. and Leo Ray, both of Hope, straighten out a "McGovern for President" poster Tuesday at the official opening of the headquarters of the Hempstead County Citizens Committee for McGovern-Shriver at 100 S. Walnut. Mrs. Stuart and Ray, coordinators of the county campaign, have long been active in the Democratic Party in Arkansas; Mrs. Stuart was a delegate from Hempstead County to the state Democratic Convention this year. Ray said that volunteers are invited to work for the McGovern-Shriver ticket and a person-to-person campaign will be conducted throughout the county. The headquarters office will be open from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m., and brochures, button and bumper stickers are available.

Newsboys meet 'The witch'

The annual newsboys Halloween Party was held at the Town and Country Restaurant. The party is sponsored by the Hope Star each year for their services of collecting and paying their bill each Saturday and training of handling their own business as small merchants, buying wholesale and selling retail.

Gene McMahan and Jackie Bain won prizes for the best costumes. Games were played and prizes were presented to the winners. The highlight of the party was the appearance of the wicked witch, Mrs. Alice Kate Baker, circulation bookkeeper. Refreshments were served.

New bump-resistant bumpers trigger insurance rate drop

WASHINGTON (AP) — New bump-resistant bumpers on 1973 cars have triggered a drop in insurance rates, holding out the hope that for the first time car owners will save in operating costs the equivalent of the price of the federally ordered safety feature.

For some high-and-moderate-risk drivers in metropolitan areas, the drop in insurance rates alone will make up the difference. For others, such as car owners in rural areas, the new bumpers will not pay off in cash unless their cars are involved in an accident, if then.

The current federal standard of protection for the new bumpers is limited. They must protect the safety-related items on a car when it is driven into a flat barrier, 5 miles per hour in front and 2 1/2 m.p.h. in the rear.

"That's not the same as a bumper into a telephone pole, or a tree or another car," said one insurance company executive. "But we're betting our costs are coming down, so we can discount our rates by 10 per cent."

M-Missing, T-Trace

Surveillance charges reappear in case

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional staff report says a Nixon campaign official once talked elatedly of learning that Democratic Congress bank accounts could be monitored "to learn of any illegal campaign financing."

The staff report, ordered by House Banking Committee Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., interpreted the remark as indicating "rather strongly" that President Nixon's re-election committee had Democratic congressmen under surveillance.

The 80-page report, released Tuesday, quoted an unnamed friend as saying Hugh Sloan Jr., then assistant Nixon campaign finance chairman, made the remark one day while the two were having lunch.

In response, the Committee for the Re-election of the President said Patman used his committee "to rescue the sinking campaign of George McGovern."

"Their latest dishonest collection of innuendo and fourth-hand hearsay is nothing more than an eleventh-hour attempt to save Mr. Patman's candidacy for president from what may be one of the worst defeats in American political history," a committee statement said.

And Rep. Gerald Ford, of Michigan, Republican leader in the House, called for an investigation of the report, which he said "represents the worst form of last-minute smear tactics."

The report, ordered by Patman after his committee refused him authority to subpoena Nixon aides for a probe of GOP campaign financing, also asserted:

—In a "bookkeeper's nightmare" resulting from Republican efforts to amass anonymous contributions before a new campaign disclosure law took effect April 7, accounting discrepancies went as high as $800,000.

—A $25,000 GOP contributor named Nixon campaign finance chief Maurice H. Stans and director Clark MacGregor as personal references in an application for a federal bank charter and got it in less than the normal time.

—The federal government should try to recover a Texas businessman's $305,000 GOP contribution and apply it to what the report called a debt to depositors of a defunct bank at Sharpstown, Tex.

The staff report cited no evidence other than Sloan's alleged luncheon remark to indicate the Republican monitored Democratic congressmen's checking accounts.

The report quoted the unnamed friend as saying, "He told me that he had a call that day from someone who indicated they could monitor the deposits of senators and congressmen to learn of any illegal campaign financing that might go to personal accounts."

Nixon applauds 'urban strategy'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon said today his administration's "urban strategy" has doubled federal assistance to states and localities and has increased their freedom to use the money as they see fit.

He spelled out what he said were effective programs to help meet the crisis of the cities in the 10th of a series of paid political radio speeches.

Speaking live from the White House, Nixon said the key point of his urban strategy "is not only that it gives our communities the dollars they need, but it also gives them the freedom they need to use those dollars effectively."

"We have doubled federal assistance to states and localities—to meet the crisis of their treasuries," the President said, "but we have also increased the sense of freedom and control in our communities—to meet the crisis of the spirit."

Civilian courts may get soldiers

LAWTON, Okla. (AP) — Ft. Sill authorities apparently have decided to let civilian authorities handle cases involving soldiers who commit crimes off the Army base.

Four Ft. Sill soldiers were charged in district court here Tuesday with felony drug offenses, including two privates who had filed complaints in federal court seeking civilian trials.

Dist. Atty. Vernon Field said the charge were filed after Ft. Sill authorities turned over results of their investigations to his office and it was determined the alleged offenses occurred off the base.

Government lawyers were appealing a recent federal court ruling in Oklahoma City forbidding Ft. Sill officials from court martialing Capt. Bruce R. Councilman, 25, of Massachusetts in a drug case. Judge Luther Eubanks ruled Councilman must be tried in civilian court.

Last week, however, Pvt. Larry D. Smith and Pfc. Lee H. Bruton filed complaints in federal court in Oklahoma City asking the court to bar their scheduled courtmartials. Bruton was to go on trial Tuesday and Smith on Nov. 6.

Smith and two other Ft. Sill soldiers, Earnest A. Racy and Gary L. Springstead, were charged Tuesday in district court with sale of marijuana and bond was set at $5,000 each. All three pleaded innocent at a hearing before Special District Court Judge John F. Taylor and preliminary hearings were set for each Nov. 16.

Bruton was charged with the sale of heroin and also will face a district court hearing.

All Around Town

The County Clerk's office will be open Saturday, November 4th, from 10:00 to 11:00 A.M. for absentee voting.

Election Day is Tuesday, November 7, and those planning to vote by absentee ballot should make application for one now either by mail or by getting a friend or relative to apply for them. Absentee ballots are available from County Clerk Mrs. Pat House. With the election in mind, Hempstead County women are working hard.

Democratic Headquarters are located on South Walnut (Cotton Row) behind Ward's Drug Store, and Republican Headquarters are located at the old Kroger parking lot on East 2nd. Women are stationed at both places and invite the public to come by and get information about candidates, visit and have a cup of coffee.

The schedule of night classes to be held at Red River Vocational Technical School was announced today by Royce Pendergrast, coordinator.

Courses to begin next week are as follows: —Electric Wiring, taught by Jim McMullan, will begin Monday, Nov. 6. —Welding, with Layne Beatty as instructor, Tuesday, Nov. 7. —Drafting, Rosita Powell, instructor, Thursday, Nov. 9.

Each class will meet one evening a week from 7 to 10 for a period of seven weeks. An additional 16 weeks training will be offered in each of the above areas provided the number desiring more training is great enough. Monday, Nov. 13, at 7 p.m., an organizational meeting will be held in the Commons Room at Red River Vocational Technical School to determine what business education courses will be offered. Four possibilities are being considered at this time: typing, shorthand, bookkeeping and letter writing. If you would be interested in any of these courses, please be at the school for the organizational meeting.

B & PW Club hosts Southwest conference

"Objectives in Action" was the theme of the Southwest District Conference, Arkansas Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, which met Oct. 28-29 at Perry's Restaurant in Perrytown with the Hope Club as hostess.

The importance of the ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment in January was stressed in many ways throughout the conference. It was pointed out that the E.R.A. would bring about equal rights for everyone, not for women only. For this reason everyone should become better informed about the proposed amendment. District Director Winifred Ward of Emmet was in charge of the conference.

State president Charlene Tipton inspired the 96 in attendance with her talk about the one objective everyone has—happiness. She gave as a formula: love, hope, peace of mind, kindness, appreciation, patience. She suggested that the improvement of the quality of one's work could also produce happiness and success. State finance chairman Lorene May moderated a panel discussion, "Upward Action in Our Changing Times," by state president-elect Florence Hotteclaw, national legislation chairman Una May, past state president Ellene Johnson, Thera Greer of Prescott; and Cleora Spain of Little Rock, state chairman of personal development.

Special music on Sunday morning was a duet arrangement of two songs by Judy and Mary Jane Rayenga, accompanied at the organ by Tim Gunter. A devotion, "For This One Hour," was presented by Mildred McRae of Prescott. The four Objectives in Action, "How to Promote," "How to Cooperate," "How to Elevate," and "How to Extend," were discussed by panel members, Ada Thomas, president of the DeQueen Club, Rena Walters, state 1st vice-president, Treble Shaw, past state president, and Myrtice Patterson, state corresponding secretary.

When having any kind of major repairs done to your home get three estimates and judge for yourself which price is the best buy for you—considering quality and reputation of the repairman. It's a good idea to check references, too—from persons who have used the repairman. He may just give you the names of three relatives or bogus customers, but it's worth a try.

To conclude the conference, district officers for the coming year were named as follows: director, Charlene Wiggins, Hope; co-director, Kathy Hutchinson, Texarkana; state nominating committee member, Treble Shaw; state nominating committee alternate, Mabel Pittman; secretary, Winnie Miller, Texarkana.

Whipped Shadow
New whipped eye shadows, which come in bright but soft translucent colors, have an advantage over powdered shadow. The creme shadow doesn't crease or cake up. It's much better for drier complexions or for women

Steam Out Dirt
Steam treatments are good for the face. Steam machines or hot towel applications open pores and clean out the deepest dirt. But once a week is quite enough or oil and moisture will be stripped away.

Helen Help Us!

—by Helen Bottel—

How Handle a Lecherous Boss?
DEAR HELEN:

I'm a quite new secretary at a big radio station. My problem is the moderator of the early afternoon talk-back show. It's one of those racy "exaggeration pieces" where bored housewives call in and bare all—from seductions of the TV repairman to fantasies about swinging. They get super raunchy, which stirs up the moderator (Mr. S.E.X., he's called), who leads them on—but the trouble is, he stays stirred up!

It isn't safe being around him the rest of the day, but I can't avoid him because he calls me in for dictation. He works one-eighth of the time and the rest is devoted to suggestive plays to get me on the couch side of his desk!

He's never finished by 5:00 p.m. so wants me to come in nights for extra pay. This may sound naive but, Helen, he is only difficult to hold down after his sexy program. In the mornings he's a perfect married gentleman. Do you suppose he'd recover enough to be safe by 7:30 p.m.?—NEEDS THE MONEY

DEAR NEEDS:
Don't count on it! Old Sexy may be one of those night people who rev up more as the evening wears on.

You'd be safer to forget the extra money and remind him that "All work and no play gets Jack out of the office on time," (and keeps him "a perfect married gentleman.")—H.

DEAR HELEN:
My husband is an avid sportsman. He can remember to the ounce how much his last buck weighted, how many spikes, etc., but he couldn't guess my weight within 15 pounds, and he never notices when I change my hairdo. I was about to discount all this when he told me he was going to take me on an ocean cruise. Ah, moonlight and romance, I thought—maybe I'm still his favorite deer.

Ha! Not only does the cruise include a lot of fishing at various places, but guess why he chose it: He heard the food they serve on board is the best in the world.—WANTS A LOVER NOT A SPORTSMAN-GOURMET
DEAR WLSNG:
Don't be a defeatist! Surely moonlight, soft sea island breezes, and a sexy little wife, can redirect her husband's appetite.—H.

P.S. Concerning sportsman's total recall, columnist L.M. Boyd (who writes "Pam It On") offers consolation:

"Almost without exception," says he, "the typical fisherman can remember the measurements of the biggest fish he ever caught and the day he caught it. But he can't remember the measurements of his bride on their wedding day. He can recall the weight of that fish precisely. But he can't recall at all his wife's weight then. He can recollect exactly what bait that fish gobbled up. But he can't recollect what he and the lady friend ate at the first marital meal. Women happily married to fishermen understand these odd memory fixations, it's said, and make allowances."

...So too should wives of buck hunters.—H.

DEAR HELEN:
About the lady who is bugged by the perfection of her mother-in-law and sister-in-law: She mentions every good thing about these two persons, but I wonder how their sex life is?

Usually a "perfect" wife in all those departments fails miserably in bed. My wife wins no gold medals as a social butterfly or spotless housekeeper—she's more human than superhuman. But I wouldn't trade her for all the bikini-clad beauties or "perfect" homemakers. She has perfect sex-understanding and mate-understanding. We have been married over 25 years and she still makes me feel like a king.

Moving day for favorite plants

The green, growing plants which were moved outdoors for a summer vacation should be coming back indoors now, and one of the nation's leading authorities on indoor growing has some suggestions to make the move a successful one. Arthur Landseadel, of Ohio, was honored last year by Mrs. Nixon during special White House ceremonies when some 30 nursery firms received the American Association of Nurserymen's Landscape Award.

"Light, humidity, temperature, and continuing care are major factors in the life and health of plants indoors," Mr. Landseadel says. "And of course the attractiveness of the way the plants are displayed is a primary consideration," he adds. Mr. Landseadel's firm is recognized as one of the nation's outstanding specialists in commercial indoor plantings, and their expertise is easily translated to help in home and apartment situations.

"It's wise to make the move indoors before the weather gets really cold," the AAN spokesman says. "Give them a chance to get used to the new location...the different kind of light, the different drafts, less humidity. Then, when the heat goes on in the house, the change won't be so abrupt."

He suggests this should be a time to think about how long the plant has been in its container, and perhaps repot it if there's a chance it may be root bound. Or this may be a time to prune back some of the roots and return the plant to its original container.

With light intensity being one of the major factors in the health of indoor plants, Mr. Landseadel offers a number of suggestions on that subject. "The density of light is the important consideration," he says. "Some plants want a low light density—others a medium—others a high degree of light. In our work in business offices and other commercial locations we are pretty sophisticated about this, using light meters to measure the available foot candles of light in each location, then placing the right kinds of plants in each area. The private home probably doesn't have to go to the same extremes, but some consideration of these facts is important."

"A relative humidity of between 20 per cent and 40 per cent is the best environment for the proper growth of indoor plants," Mr. Landseadel maintains, "and the control of this, of course, is moisture... moisture in the soil of the plant, itself, and moisture in the immediate atmosphere." The indoor-planting specialist seems to feel most homes will provide low humidity levels during winter months, and suggests the addition of water containers near to the plants, either within the plant container itself (but making sure the roots of the plant are not immersed), or in attractive containers nearby to moisten the "mini-environment" around the plants.

The happiest temperature for indoor plants, planting authority Landseadel claims, is somewhere around 70 to 72 degrees, and homeowners with a quantity of inside greenery should avoid lowering the temperature at night.

The containers used are an important feature in the esthetic value of the indoor plantings. As a rough guideline, these dimensions are suggested by the professional: 2 to 3 foot plants should be placed in planters about 12" high by perhaps 16" across; 3 to 5 foot plants want a container about 18" high and with about 18" width; 5 to 6 foot plants will look best in a container 24" high and about 18" to 24" across. Arthur Landseadel suggests that plants never be placed directly into the ornamental container, but kept in their less-attractive planting receptacle, which is then placed in the exterior container. The surface of the planting material may be covered by shredded or chunk bark to improve the appearance and retain moisture.

Indoor plantings, the American Association of Nurserymen says, represent one of nature's gifts. The green, growing materials contribute beauty, help freshen the air, break up sound patterns, help keep us in touch with an important aspect of life in the world around us. And, with its rich rewards for little effort, indoor planting is good fun.

Jaycettes name new officers

Two Texarkana Jaycettes, Diane Fowler and Carolyn Stout, were guests of the Hope Jaycettes Monday, October 30 at a meeting in the home of Mrs. James Starkey. They explained the duties of the different officers before an installation took place.

New officers in the local organization are: president, Jan Brown; vice-president, Doris Versar; secretary, Ann Stephenson; treasurer, Nina Starkey; reporter, Noralyn Bain; parliamentarian, Diane Tompkins. During the social hour, punch and cookies were served to 8.

YOUR BIRTHDAY TODAY
Though you have to work harder this year, it will be worth it. Past obligations can be overcome. Lady Luck may give you an unexpected hand.

ARIES (Mar 21-Apr 19): You have definite responsibilities to face and you know what they are. Making excuses won't get the job done.

TAURUS (Apr 20-May 20): Details could be overlooked. If they are it will prove costly. Take the time to do things properly—no shortcuts.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): You may be tempted to criticize someone before you have all the facts. Reserve judgment till you see how the pieces fit together.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Travel, particularly short trips, is likely to be frustrating. Things are more pleasant for you if you are less mobile.

LEO (July 23-Aug 22): There's a small favor you expected from a friend. It may not come through. The pain could be felt in your purse.

VIRGO (Aug 23-Sept 22): Financial affairs look favorable, but there is something you could do thoughtlessly that could reflect upon your credibility.

LIBRA (Sept 23-Oct 23): Your private thoughts regarding future plans are a little too secret. Some outside help may be required to avoid pitfalls.

SCORPIO (Oct 24-Nov 22): Past obligations should not be ignored today. They're petty, frustrating. There's a correct way to handle things. You'll find it.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23-Dec 21): An agreement you may have felt was completely ironed out has some weak clauses. Discussion is required to rework details.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22-Jan 19): Thinking of what you'd like to do instead of what you should be doing won't ease things. Don't pass blame to coworkers.

AQUARIUS (Jan 20-Feb 19): Others will criticize if you change arrangements without consulting them. Social plans are particularly vulnerable.

PISCES (Feb 20-Mar 20): Some compromises are required in your domestic relations. It will go a lot smoother if you're willing to retract something you said.

Stevens is named Back of the Week

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Louisville's pint-sized running sensation, Howard Stevens, wasn't sure he was big enough to play college football and frustrated defenders have been wishing ever since that he had decided against it.

Stevens, who has slithered and slid his 5-foot-5, 165-pound frame for more yards and more touchdowns than any other NCAA player in history, is this week's Associated Press Back of the Week.

"I was kind of skeptical about playing college ball. I really didn't know what I could do at that level," Stevens said. "So I picked a small school to start out with."

At Randolph-Macon College in Virginia Stevens ran for 1,470 and 1,204 yards in two seasons. "Then I decided it was time to see what I could do at a bigger school."

The result was a 1,429-yard season last year for Louisville and in six games this year the speedster has added 851 yards.

The NCAA Statistics Bureau has recognized him as the smallest back ever to compile 1,000 yards in one season.

Saturday's 258 yards against Cincinnati gave him a total of 4,854 and his three touchdowns in 17th-ranked Louisville's 38-31 win gave him a career mark of 66, also a new collegiate standard.

His skittering, darting running style has been compared to that of "a rabbit in a wheelbarrow" by former Cleveland Browns' Coach Blanton Collier and he is as durable as he is shifty.

Razorbacks preparing for Aggies

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Despite a steady downpour and winds of 15 to 20 miles per hour, the Arkansas Razorbacks practiced outside Tuesday for about 90 minutes.

"We had to stay out in the rain because we had to work on our game plan," Broyles said.

He said the Razorbacks were preparing for a new defense and could not afford to miss any practice time in preparation for their meeting Saturday with Texas A&M at College Station, Tex.

TWO POINTS—David Griffin, a player for Young American Homes, adds another two points to the scoreboard in last night's basketball action against Butane Gas. Griffin scored a total of 28 points for Young American, which dropped the contest 89-76. Larry Walker was high-point man for Butane with 26. Zeco defeated Davis Discount in the second game of the evening by a score of 116-81. James Jackson was high scorer for Davis Discount with 26 points followed by Larry East with 21. Jack Watkins scored 34 for the winners, followed by Ray Garvin with 27.

Hull is back; fans love him

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Bobby Hull was back in Chicago and the hockey fans showed they still love him. But they also let him know they now have other allegiances.

Hull, long-time super star of the National Hockey League Chicago entry, made his first appearance in the Windy City since jumping to the rival World Hockey Association.

An appearance was about all that it was since he's a non-playing player and a non-coaching coach.

Hull, a 15-year veteran with the NHL Black Hawks, signed with the WHA's Winnipeg Jets last summer for $2.75 million as a player-coach, but he is barred from doing either by a federal court order pending disposition of a suit against him by the Black Hawks.

He was greeted Tuesday night by a standing ovation as he joined the WHA's Chicago Cougars in their home opening ceremonies. Shortly afterwards, however, it was the Cougars who were getting the cheers and the Chicago team went on to beat Winnipeg 3-1.

With Bobby back, it was only ironic that two more Bobbys proved the undoing of Hull's Jets.

Bobby Whitlock scored two goals and Bob Siciński one in the third period to rally the Cougars after Dunc Rousseau had given the Jets a 1-0 lead in the second period.

Hull said he wasn't surprised by the Chicago victory.

"The Cougars have some people who like to hit and the small sphere of action out there make for a lot of contact," said Hull.

'Nonames' finally have name of their own

MIAMI (AP) — Somebody was bound to find out who those Miami Dolphins "no-name" defenders were.

The National Football League has been finding out all season. And, as a result, the "no-names" finally have a name of their own.

The Associated Press named the entire defensive unit of the unbeaten Dolphins as Defensive Player of the Week Tuesday for its 23-0 whitewashing of the Baltimore Colts last Sunday.

Many of them are "no names" to the average football fan—such as end Vern Den Herder, a second-year tackle whose previous claim to fame was playing for Central College in Iowa.

Other players are end Bill Stanfill; tackles Manny Fernandez, Jim Dunaway and Bob Heinz; linebackers Nick Buoni-conti, Doug Swift, Mike Kolen and Bob Matheson; cornerbacks Tim Foley, Curtis Johnson and Lloyd Humphord, and safeties Jake Scott and Dick Anderson.

"I'm glad the 'no-names' got recognized," said Coach Don Shula, who has instilled in them the idea that the opponent must be shut out to insure at least a tie for the Dolphins. They limited the Colts to just 78 net yards passing and 114 rushing.

"Defense is a team proposition," said defensive coordinator Bill Arnsparger, who has been coaching under Shula since 1964. "It's hard for one person to play defense."

That's why the "no-names" like their tag, because it credits all instead of individuals. As a team, they're the stingiest in the league, surrendering only 87 points.

Their heroes change week to week. Against Baltimore, it was Johnson who blocked a punt to set up a touchdown, Humphord who blocked a field goal attempt to set up a Miami field goal and Den Herder getting in on nine tackles, seven unassisted. Fernandez made eight tackles, five unassisted, and Buoniconti added six tackles and had three assists in the game.

Den Herder caught Colts' quarterback Marty Domres twice for losses and Fernandez sacked him once. Fernandez also recovered a fumble late in the game on Miami's 20-yard line to wreck the Colts' strong-offense.

Arnsparger is the guiding light of the defense and he seemed ready to pass out cigars when informed of The AP honor Tuesday.

"We won't be able to live with you this week," sighed offensive backfield Coach Carl Taseff.

Nicklaus is PGA's Player of the year

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, who failed in his attempt to win the Grand Slam but did capture six championships in 1972, was named the Professional Golf Association's Player of the Year today.

The announcement of Nicklaus' selection by Warren Orlick, PGA president, was not surprising since the Columbus, Ohio native won both the Masters and the U.S. Open titles and nearly $300,000, a record.

Nicklaus began the year by announcing his intention of trying to win professional golf's big four tournaments—the Masters, U.S. Open, British Open and PGA. He won the first two but was defeated on the last hole of the British Open by defending champion Lee Trevino, the 1971 Player of the Year. Gary Player of South Africa won the PGA, in which Nicklaus tied for 13th.

"I am delighted and most appreciative to the PGA for selecting me," Nicklaus said.

Super Mex is popular favorite

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Lee Trevino remained a popular but self-chastised favorite today as he awaited the start of the $125,000 Texas Open Golf Tournament—and probable disciplinary action.

"I made a mistake," Trevino said Tuesday of his action in stalking off the course in last week's Sahara Invitational in Las Vegas, Nev.

"An hour after I'd left I'd have given $5,000 not to have done it to be able to go back play it out."

Larry Brown:

Size doesn't count

NEW YORK (AP) — "I've been an 'average back' for so long, I'm tired of it," an exhausted Larry Brown said sarcastically. "I'm working to be on top. Everybody's got a big-back theory, but size has nothing to do with it. It's heart and determination. I learned that long ago. I learned to run when I was small ... in the ghetto."

As a running back, Brown hardly has impressive physical statistics — 186 pounds packed on a 5-foot-11 frame. As he says, though, it's not the size that counts but what one does with it. And Brown does everything with what he's got.

Ten days ago he rushed for 96 yards and caught passes for 100 more, scoring a pair of touchdowns in Washington's crucial 24-20 victory over Dallas. That performance brought him the selection a week ago as The Associated Press Offensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

Last Sunday against New York, Brown outdid himself. He rushed for an overwhelming career-high 191 yards, 38 of them on a touchdown gallop, and caught a pair of passes for 43 yards, one of them covering seven yards for a score, as the Redskins came away with an equally crucial 23-16 triumph over the Giants.

As a result, the fourth-year pro from Kansas State earned the rare distinction today of being named The AP Offensive Player of the Week for the second straight time.

Other nominees this week were rookie running back Franco Harris of Pittsburgh, quarterback Archie Manning of New Orleans, and quarterback Craig Morton of Dallas. Harris, subbing for injured Preston Pearson, rushed for 131 yards and two touchdowns and caught a 17-yard pass for another score in the Steelers' 38-21 victory over Buffalo. Manning completed 20 of 35 passes for 286 yards and two touchdowns as the Saints beat Philadelphia 21-3 for their first victory of the season. Morton threw three touchdown passes and set up a fourth TD with his series in Dallas' 28-24 victory Monday night over Detroit.

A lot of fans compare Brown with stars like Jim Brown, Gale Sayers and Leroy Kelly. While other players might balk in such recognition, Larry Brown shrugs it off.

"Let me be myself," he insists. "Let me succeed or fail on my face as Larry Brown without being compared to others ... I just want to be my own man ... But of course, it's a compliment to be put in the same neighborhood with those fellows."

Unpredictable Buffaloes headed for another weekend upset?

NEW YORK (AP) — Can Colorado do to Nebraska on Saturday what it did to Oklahoma two weeks ago?

The unpredictable Buffaloes, who seem to be involved in an upset in one way or another just about every week, entertain the third-ranked but once-beaten Cornhuskers this weekend with a chance to destroy once and for all their dream of an unprecedented third consecutive national college football championship.

Colorado has been a puzzle, struggling past lowly California in the opening game, losing to underdogs Oklahoma State and Missouri but defeating highly ranked Oklahoma and Iowa State.

Nebraska, on the other hand, has outscored its last six opponents 315-14 after dropping its opener to UCLA. In addition, the Cornhuskers are second nationally in total offense, third in passing, first in scoring, tops in total defense—including four straight shutouts—eight in rushing defense, sixth in pass defense and third in scoring defense. Colorado isn't among the leaders in any of those categories.

Nebraska's Bob Devaney doesn't lose many games and he's never lost in Boulder. The pick ... Nebraska.

Oklahoma at Iowa State—This one matches the Big Eight's other two bowl teams of a year ago. Oklahoma's statistics are almost as impressive as Nebraska's—No. 1 in total offense and rushing, third in scoring, eighth in total defense, seventh in rushing defense and tied for first in scoring defense with Michigan. Next for Iowa State is Nebraska. For the present, it's ... Oklahoma.

Southern California at Washington State—Top-ranked Trojans are looking ahead ... to a week off, followed by UCLA and Notre Dame. Southern Cal.

Mississippi at Louisiana State—Ole Miss has been in and out and might catch the Tigers looking ahead to Alabama ... were it not for the Rebels' 24-22 triumph a year ago. LSU.

Stanford at UCLA—UCLA is the nation's No. 1 basketball school and Stanford's quarterback is Mike Boryla, whose old man used to put the round ball through the hoop with regularity. Mike is the NCAA's No. 4 passer. Upset Special of the Week ... Stanford.

Southern Methodist at Texas—Mustangs gave Texas a battle royal (no relation to Darrell) before losing 22-18 a year ago but were caught looking ahead by Texas Tech last week. It'll be SMU's fourth-rated rushing defense against the eighth-ranked ground game of ... Texas.

Auburn at Florida—Tigers are the surprise team of the country. Auburn.

Tennessee at Georgia—Tennessee's defense has been super. Georgia's offense has been mostly nonexistent. Tennessee.

Air Force at Army—Ben Martin says the Falcons are "almost as good as some of our bowl teams." Army has no speed. Air Force.

Purdue at Michigan State—Believe it or not, Purdue is tied for the Big Ten lead with Michigan and Ohio State, but the Boilermakers are underdogs in this one. Okay. Michigan State.

Mississippi State at Alabama—Next week it's "Bama-LSU. This week it's just ... Alabama.

Michigan at Indiana—Hoo-siers' bubble has burst with two straight setbacks. Make it three. Michigan.

Missouri at Kansas State—Missouri has knocked off Notre Dame and Colorado and faces Oklahoma next week. Logical spot for the Second Upset Special of the Week ... Kansas State.

Dartmouth at Yale—Bulldogs have won 'em all this year in the Bowl and lost their one road game. Enough of that. Dartmouth.

Rives leads Raiders into Top Twenty

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN Associated Press Sports Writer

A few years ago, the doctors said the football career of Texas Tech's Donald Rives was over. The folks at Southern Methodist and other points of interest around the Southwest Conference wish the medics had been right.

Middle guard Rives made 25 tackles against SMU a year ago and added 20 more Saturday as the Red Raiders upset the nationally ranked Mustangs 17-3 and moved into the Top Twenty themselves.

Rives, a 6-foot-2, 215-pound senior from Wheeler, Tex., graded out at 93 per cent against SMU. He made 13 primary stops and seven assisted tackles—six of the 20 were behind the line for 42 yards in losses—and recovered a punt which a teammate fumbled at the Tech six-yard with the Raiders nursing a shaky 10-3 lead.

For that performance, Rives was named National College Lineman of the Week by The Associated Press.

Rives' medical problems began when he hurt his back as a freshman fullback at Tech. "They (the doctors) said I'd never play football again," Rives recalls. "I sat in my room for about two days after I heard that. I thought about leaving. I didn't want to stay around if I couldn't play."

A few days later, though, Rives decided to begin a daily series of exercises designed to help his back. After a while, his personal doctor "told me I could go back and if I could stand the pain, I could play."

Rives rejoined the freshman squad and finished the season and has been a pain in the neck to Tech opponents ever since.

In winning Lineman of the Week honors, Tech's Wheeler Dealer beat out middle guard Rich Glover of Nebraska; linebackers Andre Jackson of Iowa, John David Calhoun of Mississippi State, Dave Lokanc of Wisconsin and Greg Jones of Kansas State; defensive tackles Dan McDonough of Missouri and Rich Gunther of UCLA; offensive tackle Jim Krapf of Alabama and wide receivers David Knight of William & Mary, Jeff Calabrese of Toledo and Steve Sweeney.

Squires play waiting game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Virginia Squires played a waiting game and all the self-control paid off with a victory Tuesday night.

The Squires, leading the American Basketball Association East, trailed Carolina 60-55 at the half and 90-85 after three quarters. But then they began to move behind center Jim Eakins and forward Julius Erving.

Eakins and Erving each scored 19 points in the fourth period and the Squires pulled the game out 120-114.

"I think our team, even though it got behind, went right ahead with its game plan," said Johnny Kerr, the Virginia general manager. "They got the ball in to our center and it worked just beautifully."

Virginia had used up much of three periods trying to shut off the hot-shooting Joe Caldwell, who finished with 36 points. Teammates Billy Cunningham and Mack Calvin added 19 and 15 points, respectively, for the Cougars.

As it was, it took a 35-point period for Virginia and a defense that held Carolina to 24 points to get the victory. Eakins scored a total of 31 points while Erving had 24 and Bernie Williams added 17.

In other ABA action, Denver whipped Utah 116-103 and Kentucky beat San Diego 119-100.

Warren Jabali scored 28 points, 13 in the fourth quarter, and had 10 assists as Denver snapped its four-game losing streak. The victory also broke a four-game Utah winning streak. Jabali and Dave Robisch, who had 20 points, helped the Rockets pull away after the game was tied 99-98 early in the fourth period. Willie Wise led the Stars with 25 points.

Dan Issel and Artis Gilmore hit 36 and 22 points, respectively, in a game where Kentucky pulled away strongly from a 66-66 tie in the middle of the third period. The Colonels were scoreless for 6½ minutes of the period but then held San Diego without a point for 5½ minutes. Issel Johnson scored 32 points while Chuck Williams added 20 for the Conquistadors.

NBA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"That's the way to win them, man," Little Calvin Murphy declared. "Why get a big lead at the start and take away all the suspense?"

Murphy, Houston's 5-foot-10 backcourtman, almost went too far with the suspense bit Tuesday night, but came up with the big play that gave the Rockets a 106-105 victory over the Atlanta Hawks in National Basketball Association action.

With 15 seconds to go and Houston in front 104-103, Murphy lost the ball on a turnover. Atlanta's Pete Maravich sank a 14-foot jumper with 10 seconds left to tie the game, was fouled on the play and hit the free throw to put Atlanta up by one.

But Murphy atoned for his mistake by coming right back down court and sinking a 15-foot jump shot with just three seconds showing on the clock, giving Houston the one-point victory.

"We were fortunate to win," Murphy said afterwards. "Maravich made a great shot to put them ahead, and I just made a lucky one to win it for us."

In other NBA games, Cleveland topped Philadelphia 129-116, Chicago beat Kansas City-Omaha 104-88 and Golden State defeated Detroit 113-104.

Houston's Jack Marin had a game-high 26 points, while Murphy finished with 20. For Atlanta, Walt Bellamy had 23, Maravich 21 and Lou Hudson 20.

Bobby Smith came off the bench to score 27 points and spark Cleveland to victory. It was the ninth consecutive defeat for winless Philadelphia, the worst start in the team's history.

Aggies seeking magic potion

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The last three Saturdays have been like Halloween for the Texas A&M football team.

Three straight Southwest Conference teams have weaved their spells over the Aggies—picked third in the SWC in the preseason polls—by a total of eight points.

Coches Emory Ballard is on the verge of seeking out magic potions and voodoo dolls before playing Arkansas Saturday at College Station.

First, it was Texas Tech 17-14. Then, TCU 13-10. Last week, it was Baylor 15-13.

"I've about decided I haven't been living right," Ballard said. "It's not so much the losses as the way they've occurred."

"We were leading Tech 14-10 and then they went ahead 17-14 in the final minutes," Ballard said. "We come back and take it down to the 17 with a first down there. We have a receiver open at the five and overthrow him for an interception. Had he caught it, he might not have scored but we would have been inside the five."

"TCU scored to late and then we reached the one after coming back from the same circumstances," Ballard said. "We had no timeouts left and ran a play at the goal line but jumped offside and weren't able to get the field goal kicking team in in time."

In the Baylor game, a Bear field goal hit the left upright, bounced down and struck the crossbar and then fell over for three points. The Bears won by two.

Kind of makes you wonder whether Ballard's broken a mirror or been walking under ladders.

Ballard says that despite the adversity the Aggies "have kept their heads pretty good."

"Whenever you do win the close ones, it gives you poise and confidence," Ballard said. "If we had won those three close ones, maybe we'd be burning up at this time, but that's not to say we won't be getting after it."

Ballard says A&M's biggest problem has been on offense where the Aggies have been "inconsistent as the devil."

"Some of it is because of inexperience and some of it is because some players we thought would do us a real good job haven't come through," Ballard said.

Perry wins Cy Young award

PORTOLA VALLEY, Calif.

(AP) — Cleveland Indians right-hander Gaylord Perry predicted in 1970 he would win a Cy Young Award to match the one his older brother Jim won at Minnesota that year. Now he has.

"It was my best season ever in baseball," Perry said Tuesday after learning he had beaten out Wilbur Wood of the Chicago White Sox 64-58 in the Baseball Writers Association of America voting for the American League's best pitcher.

Gaylord, 34, and Jim, 36, made baseball history two years ago by being the first brother act to win 20 major league games, but Gaylord, 23-year, lost out to Bob Gibson of St. Louis in the National League Cy Young vote.

At the time, Gaylord said, "Our mantle is large enough for two. Jim's got his. I'll get mine."

The Giants, for whom he pitched 10 years, traded Perry to Cleveland last winter and he posted a 24-16 season for the fifth-place Indians and had an earned run average of 1.92, the best of his career. Eight of his 16 losses were by one run, he noted.

At his hilltop home here, 40 miles south of San Francisco, Perry called the award "a great thrill" and said he was "very happy."

BASKET—Larry Walker, 11, sinks a basket for two points for Butane Gas against Young American Homes in the second game of the evening. Walker was high scorer for Butane Gas with 26 points followed by George Smith with 24. Butane Gas downed Young American 89-76. More men's independent basketball action is scheduled for tonight at the Guernsey Gym when Perry's will meet Anderson-Frazier followed by the Butane Gas — Tex-Ark. Joist tilt.

Snip 'n take phone service is announced

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A new service being offered by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. will allow Arkansas telephone customers to pack their telephones with other items when they move.

The new service, which will save participants $5, went into effect today on all Arkansas exchanges.

The objectives of the program, which is called "Telephone Set Recovery Plan," or "Snip 'N Take," are to reduce telephone set losses and to cut calls by installers that produce no revenue.

A telephone company spokesman said that in most instances when a person moves to a new residence, he may snip the telephone cord with a pair of scissors and take the instrument with him. The telephone installer will pick up the old telephone while at the new address to install a new telephone.

A person will save a $5 service charge by taking his telephone with him when he moves, the spokesman said. "The plan applies only to one and two-party residence telephone service and only when the customer is moving to another location within the same telephone exchange," the spokesman said. "Also, certain instruments, such as wall telephones and those with special equipment, still must be disconnected by installers. The $5 credit will not be given when our technicians must make a visit to the residence to disconnect instruments."

The spokesman pointed out that there was no danger of electrical shock when customers cut the telephone cords. "But we urge customers to cut the cords as near the wall as possible to avoid the safety hazard of tripping over long, dangling cords on the floor," he said.

Mrs. Dorothy Spencer, commercial methods supervisor at Southwestern Bell here, said that a customer should call the telephone company first to determine if he is eligible before snipping the telephone cord.

"When the customer calls requesting the transfer of his telephone service, the service representative will examine his records closely for eligibility," she said. "After verifying the number and kind of telephones he has, the service representative will offer him the option of snipping the cord and taking the telephone or telephones to the new location for installation."

She also said that only one $5 credit will be given regardless of the number of telephones a person might have.

Candidates blast 4 incumbents

Blaylock

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — "It is now apparent to all that sound fiscal planning could have avoided these unnecessary new taxes on our people," Len E. Blaylock, Republican gubernatorial candidate, said here Tuesday.

He made the remark in renewing his charge that under Gov. Dale Bumpers there has been "a brazen plundering of taxpayers' pocketbooks."

Referring to the 1971 Bumpers tax program approved by the legislature, Blaylock said, "Taxes have been piled upon taxes and a massive state surplus is the end result."

He said the sales tax on services was inequitable and unnecessary. "Dale Bumpers told the people it was necessary, and it was quickly tacked on," Blaylock said. "It cost you, the taxpayer, over $7 million last year — about three times the amount Mr. Bumpers estimated."

Blaylock said the tax was inequitable because "the mechanic has to collect it, but the plumber does not. The drycleaner has to charge it, but the roofer does not."

He also said the increase in the rates of state tax on incomes also was unnecessary.

"I wonder if ever before any state government levied a tax on the people without a plan for its use?" he said.

The fact that a state revenue surplus is growing in the state treasury, with estimates that the total may reach $100 million by the time this fiscal year ends next June 30, shows that the increases were not necessary, Blaylock said.

Climmer

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Jerry Climer, Republican candidate for secretary of state, said Tuesday that if elected he would replace three of the incumbent's aides but keep others who work in the office. The employees of Secretary of State Kelly Bryant that Climer said he would replace were Bob Brier, Joe Madey and Spider Webb.

Climer said he would ask Mary Laing to return to the office. She quit earlier this year in a dispute with Bryant.

Brier was hired as a public relations adviser and no such position is needed in the office, Climer said.

Climer characterized Madey as "a private attorney for Bryant," which was a waste of the taxpayers' money since the attorney general's office "is just a few hundred yards from the secretary of state's office."

Climer said Webb has been active in re-election efforts of Bryant.

Hatfield

ROGERS, Ark. (AP) — Guy Hatfield of Rogers, Democratic nominee for Congress in the 3rd District, accused Rep. John Paul Hammerschmidt of violating the federal Hatch Act by allowing members of his staff to work in his campaign. Hammerschmidt, a Republican, is seeking re-election.

Hatfield said it had been reported that Hammerschmidt's staff was campaigning for him Friday in Fort Smith.

Hatfield said Hammerschmidt had said that a member of the U.S. House had told him the Hatch Act did not apply to his campaign. Hatfield said Hammerschmidt did not identify the member.

Coon

TRUMANN, Ark. (AP) — Ken Coon of Fort Smith, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, said Tuesday that the record of Lt. Gov. Bob Riley "shows him to lack credibility."

Riley is the Democratic nominee for re-election.

"The voters are looking for someone who is believable,"

Coon said.

Coon said Riley's credibility was lacking in three instances:

"First, he has led the public to believe that his income as lieutenant governor has been only $2,500. That is simply not true. The take-home income is $8,500 and other allowances are available for telephone, travel and retirement. Our people don't appreciate this kind of half-truth and being laughed at because our No. 2 state officer

"Secondly, we have clipplings where he promised to be a full-time lieutenant governor. This has not come to pass — he has continued to work at his regular job."

"Lastly, most people today doubt the credibility of anyone who sells straight-ticket voting. They know that it is unlikely that one party has all the answers and all the good people."

CURT JOHNSON

Southwestern Bell representative is guest at Lions Club

Curt Johnson, a science demonstrator and public information supervisor for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., entertained the Hope Lions with his scientific demonstrations and experiments at their Monday luncheon at the Town and Country Restaurant.

Johnson has appeared several times in Hope for various clubs and has a humorous style of presenting his message. His theme Monday was on the relation of chemistry to the telephone business. Of 104 chemical elements, 97 are used in the manufacture of our telephone. The modern phone that we use has 400 parts in it.

The speaker described the research that goes into the covers or insulation of coaxial cables. They are expected to last at least fifty years. It has been proven by Bell's experiments that polyethylene plastic will outlast rubber for this use. A solution dripped on two identical looking strips of plastics aged them fifty years in a matter of seconds.

Other demonstrations explained the principle of the solar cell used to power communication satellites and preliminary experiments in voice activated dialing.

In club business, Lion Jimmie Griffin reported on a visit by seven local members to the Bradley, Arkansas Lions Club.

Roger Nunn was inducted into the club as a new member and the date for the annual Christmas auction was announced by Lion Gus Hogan. The auction will be broadcast by Radio Station KXAR on Nov. 30 and Dec. 1-2.

Guests were Bill O'Neal, wire chief; Mrs. Susan James, chief operator; Alan Smith, plant foreman, all with Southwestern Bell of Hope; and Miss Carol Freel, daughter of Lion Don Freel, and Lioness Mattie Lee, wife of Lion Bobby Joe Lee.

Suggestion on doctors

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Legislative Council heard a suggestion Tuesday that medical degree programs in the state be cut by two years and that medical school graduates be required to serve those two years as general practitioners in rural communities.

The comments from Dr. Joe Verser, secretary-treasurer of the state Medical Board, were a continuation of the discussion among state officials and members of the medical profession in an effort to find methods of encouraging more medical students to enter general practice in rural communities.

If the taxpayers educate doctors, he said, the doctors owe an obligation to the state.

He said that a large number of physicians had been licensed to practice in the state but had moved outside the state to practice after receiving their license. According to Verser, 1,450 physicians who were licensed to practice in Arkansas in the past 20 years had moved to other states.

Verser said the number of licensed physicians in the state has increased from 1,382 in 1950 to 1,888 this year, but that most of them are in the larger cities. He said that of the 50 physicians in Jonesboro, "nearly all" are specialists.

However, he said the "pendulum is swinging" and more medical students are entering general practice now than in the past.

Verser, who owns Verser Clinic Hospital, a 20-bed facility, at Harrisburg, suggested creation of an accelerated medical program that would trim one year from the four-year premedical requirement and a year from the four-year medical program. Medical students could be required to attend school 12 months a year. He said this would trim a year from the medical school program.

Search for bank robber continuing

COAL HILL, Ark. (AP) — A search continued today for a man who held up a branch bank here Tuesday and escaped with about $3,300, State Police said.

The bank was a branch of the Farmers National Bank of Clarksville.

Noble Capps, bank vice president, said the holdup man, who was wearing a raincoat, had a gun, but Capps said no one was harmed.

State Police said L. T. Bly, branch manager, was the only person in the branch when the holdup man came in around 2 p.m. Bly was forced into the branch vault, police said.

Leadership And Unification In The Black Community—An Editorial by Rev. L. Bennie Beard, Jr.

I came to Hope as pastor of the Lonohe Baptist Church in July of 1972. I have become less involved in community concern here than anywhere I have pastored in my various pastorates for the last ten years. I thought that it was wise to take some time to decide what the needs really are.

The black Christian must learn not to become critical of his minister for becoming involved in community concern and "straight" politics. I wouldn't identify myself as a minister where my only job was to preach; where I am only known as a preacher. For I am a father, a husband, a citizen, then a preacher, minister, and pastor. Until I can fulfill my role as all of these, I am less than what I exist to be. Maybe the black minister has not offered the leadership that he is capable of offering; maybe he does not realize the possibility of his influence in the community. He is not paid by the white man; he can work and speak up in areas of community concern that the average person in his congregation cannot because he is paid by the black church or community. Whereas, most of the congregation is employed by the white man. However, whatever he attempts to do for his people, needs to be endorsed greatly by them. Therefore, there is a need for unification in all that we attempt to do.

There are a few things that have been accomplished over the years through the initiative of the leadership of the black community. One person will tell me that he was responsible, another one will tell me that another one was responsible, on down to the third or fourth person. Maybe each had his influence on the issue. Maybe neither knew about the other. However just imagine what could have been done if these influences were united together.

I am happy for the small step forward, in that the Citizens Bank and the First National Bank have hired a black employee (woman). Now who should be given praise for their being hired? Well, perhaps many have had their influence unaware over the years. Since I am a newcomer, I can only testify to that I have first hand information about. As late as April of this year, 1972, six pastors and one ex-pastor, along with one lay person (all black) made ourselves a committee to work on this matter. We decided that a larger group would have more influence. After failing to get any response at the request of a committee of one, two and three. We formulated a resolution stipulating several requests. None of the requests were responded to as made, however we look forward to the fullness of others soon. One point to notice is that neither of the banks would hire a person that we recommended. I personally recommended a young lady with a good background. After the interviewer noticed on her application that she was working part-time at one of the stores, he offered the excuse, "it is our policy not to take each others' employees". A few weeks later, he requested through one of the men on our committee to contact a young lady who was working full time at another store, thus hiring her.

Well if they insist on doing it that way, we will take it. In the meantime, many of the other stores and establishments would do good to make the move to hire some blacks before they are insulted by the request of the black community.

"Can This Be Overlooked?"
Commentary by Rev. W.G. Wynn

In most cases for sometime now, there has been a trend of our society to inject the school racial issue into the news media only when there were serious sociological and ideological racial impasses resulting into riots, semi-riots, school attendance and socio-economic boycotts, fist fights, walkouts, and court battles. While all of these might have served a distinct and unique purpose, I personally believe that even an idiot would agree that there are always much better ways to accomplish that which is best for us all than those above mentioned.

It appears to me that there is no doubt, that race relations here in Hope are far advanced to many others in our state and most others over the nation, of which we all can be justly proud.

My reference directly is to the most excellent spirit exhibited by the Hope High School Football team in its selection of the Hope High School Homecoming Queen and her court, and the magnificent coverage given by the Hope Star and the splendid news releases carried by Radio Station KXAR.

I should like to point out here that the Hope High School Varsity football team constitutes approximately eighteen black boys and about twenty-seven white boys. This plainly is a ratio of about 3 to 2 in behalf of a white majority. The situation is very clear. Miss Nancy Palmer, a black student who is the Hope High School Homecoming Queen could not have been elected by the black community alone if a popular majority vote was the election criteria.

To me this is a very excellent, unselfish and challenging spirit and should not escape the focus of public awareness. This spirit is not unique simply because of the ratio involved but other factors as: the total attitudes of the coaching staff, the endorsement given by the superintendent, principal, administrative staff and faculty, and student body. The ceremonial honors and the public's acceptance of the same are all highly indicative of a healthy social climate and a solid effort on the part of the white community to place values in the perspective of quality and to administer justice in behalf of all of our citizens in our pursuits to achieve dignity, success, and no station short of excellence.

It must be noted however, that where there are actions, then there are reactions or responses. If the response of the black community complements with added resolution to endow our society with unimpeachable integrity, sterling character, and behavioral confidence, then this eventful event is just the beginning of an infinitely better community in which to live.

The spirit of the writer here is not to indicate that there are not still many problems with which we must work, but it does reflect the presence of philosophical resources within our community that can solve these problems.

If the achievement of a progressively sound race relation requires a social formula it appears to me that our school system and community either have discovered this formula, or are performing a very valuable research in earnest pursuit of the same.

'You'll still have George to kick around'

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. George McGovern, at a party honoring his 20th wedding anniversary, told reporters covering his presidential campaign that "after Nov. 7, you'll still have George McGovern to kick around."

His comment alluded to President Nixon's statement after losing a 1962 race for governor of California that "you won't have Richard Nixon to kick around anymore," and followed presentation to McGovern and wife Eleanor of a silver bowl from traveling reporters, aides and Secret Service agents.

In addition, he was presented with a pair of orange rubber gloves and some wires and clamps—a representation of the "rubber gloves and sophisticated wiretapping equipment" to which he often refers in attacking the break-in and attempted bugging of Democratic headquarters in Washington's Watergate office building.

The postmidnight party came after McGovern, sounding a bit hoarse but still proclaiming he will defy the polls and defeat

Nixon next Tuesday, wound up a long campaign day at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner here. Earlier Tuesday, he campaigned in Syracuse, N.Y., and Jersey City and East Brunswick, N.J.

The Democratic nominee speaks today to a rally in the heart of New York's garment-manufacturing district before flying to a Hibbing, Minn., rally.

Everywhere he spoke Tuesday, McGovern condemned Nixon's veto of 20 domestic measures, 11 in the past week, saying "there's only one way to deal with 'Mr. Veto' and that's to veto him next Tuesday."

McGovern and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, who introduced the candidate at the two New Jersey stops and also spoke in New York, took note of the fact Tuesday was Halloween.

The choice next Tuesday, Kennedy said, is between "the trickery of this administration or the treat of George McGovern."

McGovern, declaring that the Nixon administration is taking Halloween seriously, said it has Vice President Spiro T. Agnew "masquerading in this campaign as Prince Charming," Democrats-for-Nixon head John Connally "masquerading as a Democrat" and "Mr. Nixon playing the role of the Invisible Man."

Joining McGovern and Kennedy at the New York dinner, at which aides said some $200,000 was raised, was former Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota. After winning the election, McGovern said, "we're going to seek out Gene McCarthy and others like him" for top government positions.

Bishop forsees day when women will be bishops

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The presiding bishop of the Episcopal church and a woman deacon in the denomination have endorsed the idea of ordaining women as priests.

In fact, Presiding Bishop John Hines told the House of Bishops here Tuesday that he foresees the day when women will be bishops.

The Rev. Carol Anderson, 27, presently a deacon at St. James Episcopal Church in New York, addressed a general meeting of the House. The group is meeting to draft proposals to be presented to the Episcopal convention next year in Lexington, Ky.

Among topics being considered by the House is the ordination of women as priests.

At least one conservative group has said it would withdraw from the denomination if women are ordained.

The Rev. Miss Anderson said, "When their is talk of either the American Church Union or the Foundation for Christian Theology leaving the denomination, it is called 'schism.' When women leave the church, it is called 'attrition.'"

As a deacon, she says she can marry couples but cannot give the blessing of the marriage, cannot celebrate Communion, cannot give absolution and cannot be the head of a parish church.

"I feel my ministry is abbreviated, unfulfilled. The church is no longer on the underside of society—it is now the hope of society," she said.

Bishop Hines said earlier he felt women should be given the chance to be ordained in the ministry.

"I feel that there is no theological or dogmatic reason prohibiting the ordination of women," he said.

"If the church is to be true to its nature and express the freedom implicit in the Gospel, it should offer ordination as priests at present for women and subsequently as bishops."

After the general meeting, the House divided itself into discussion groups.

"It's a New World Coming" was the theme for the induction of 22 seniors into the National Honor Society at Hope High School October 23. They include Diana Brown, Steve Campbell, Joey Clark, Mike Downs, Sidney Ehler, Ann Fore, Alan Foster, Kathy Graves, Perry Henley, Mike Huckabee, Evelyn Maxwell, Donald Ogden, Nancy Palmer, Claude Pryor, Debi Richardson, Lawana Ross, Barbara Scroggins, Eunice Sumner, Donna Thornton, Kathy Walden, Sim Walker, and Mike Waters.

Kathy Smith, president, conducted the ceremony in which the qualities for membership selection - character, leadership, service, and scholarship—were discussed by members.

Personality sketches were used to call the inductees from the audience, which included the Junior Class and Senior Class. Each new member was tagged with a purple ribbon which was placed around his neck.

Other officers are Rita Rook, vice president; Judy Reyenga, secretary; and Mary Young, treasurer. Miss Mary Roy Moses is faculty sponsor.

Search for more bodies underway

UKIAH, Calif. (AP) — Sheriff's investigators continue their search today for more bodies on a tree-screened ranch which a state attorney says is rumored to be a "burying ground" for the Hell's Angels motorcycle gang.

The remains of two men and a woman already have been found on the ranch in what Dick Adams, special assistant to state Atty. Gen. Evelle J. Younger, said were originally well holes.

"Since there are other similar holes in the area, these will now be examined, although we do not have specific information concerning additional bodies," Adams said.

Investigators used earth moving equipment to search the area where the bodies were found alongside a circular driveway leading to the house.

The owners of the rolling ranch land three miles southwest of Ukiah where the three bodies were discovered Monday night, George "Baby Huey" Wethern and his wife Helen, have been charged with possession and sale of drugs. Wethern also was charged with possession of stolen property.

Wethern, 33, and his 29-year-old wife were being held at the Mendocino County jail.

No one connected with the investigation has linked Wethern to membership in the Hell's Angels.

Younger said the search for bodies on the Wethern ranch began "in response to rumors the area was being used as a Hell's Angels burying ground".

Highway sections will be rebuilt

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Highway Director Ward Goodman said Tuesday that sections of Interstate 30 and Interstate 55 would be rebuilt in the next few years.

Goodman said the sections were the southbound lanes of Interstate 30 between Little Rock and Benton and the northbound lanes of Interstate 55 from West Memphis to the Missouri line.

He said the 156 work probably would begin early next year, but that rebuilding 130 south of Little Rock would await the completion of Interstate 430 at Little Rock.

He said the lanes would have to be rebuilt to handle the heavier weight limits approved for trucks on interstate highways.

Goodman said the federal government would pay 90 per cent of the cost.

He made the remarks in an appearance before the Arkansas Legislative Council, where he explained the Highway Department's proposed budget for the next biennium.

The department asks for an appropriation of $150 million each of the next two years. This year's appropriation was $145 million.

Unrest blamed on conditions

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Thirty-one sailors flown here from the Philippines under armed guard last week say they lived under unbearable conditions aboard ship and at a naval base, and they say the conditions led to drug problems and racial unrest.

The group presented a petition Tuesday to a representative of Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., asking for a congressional investigation of conditions aboard 7th Fleet ships in the Pacific and on the Subic Bay Naval Base in the Philippines.

"Servicemen are required to work long hours — 24-hour shifts are not uncommon," the sailors said in statement. "The ships are hot and bug-infested. The officers and noncommissioned officers harass and intimidate the lower enlisted ranks and discriminate against black and brown sailors. These conditions lead to drug problems and racial tension."

They said men who refuse to work or who take drugs are transferred to Subic Bay, where conditions "are more explosive than on the ships...."

The petitioners did not mention the disorders specifically Tuesday but said shipboard conditions caused "tension leading to racial conflicts."

Nixon to blitz in last week

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, an infrequent visitor to the campaign trail, plans to end his poll-favored bid for re-election with a blitz, including two nationwide telecasts, starting just four days before the balloting.

On Friday Nixon will visit, in order, O'Hare International Airport near Chicago for a rally, another airfield at a still-un-disclosed city in Oklahoma, and some location, not yet announced, in Rhode Island. He'll be back in the White House Friday night.

The White House announced Tuesday that Nixon and his wife will fly to the Ontario, Calif., airport for a planeside rally Saturday, before going by helicopter to their oceanside home at San Clemente.

En route to California, Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Tuesday, the Nixons are likely to make at least a couple of stops. But he said final details hadn't been worked out.

Whether the Republican candidate will actively campaign while in Southern California, except for the Ontario appearance, has not been announced.

Nixon will make a nationwide political television-radio speech Thursday night—the first of his campaign—and another TV appearance from somewhere in Southern California, on election eve next Monday night.

Ziegler said details of the TV windup of the campaign have not been worked out.

Nixon and his wife will vote Tuesday in their adopted San Clemente neighborhood, then fly back to the White House to receive the verdict of their fellow citizens.

Their two daughters, who will vote elsewhere, will join them for what the first family seems confident will be a Tuesday night victory celebration.

Anti-Act 1 speaker guest of Kiwanians

At Tuesday's meeting members of Hope Kiwanis Club were given an opportunity to hear the opening views on the passage of Act 1. Having heard the "pro" side last week, the "con" side was presented this week by Truett King, Missouri Pacific brakeman and son of local resident, Jack King Sr.

King stated that proponents of the Act had retracted a statement that a surcharge of $10 per car had already been approved by the regulatory agencies. "This," he said, "is simply an empty threat."

"Statistics show that Arkansas is No. 1 in railroad safety, compared to all the other states. Railroad safety is a concern to every man of every train crew in Arkansas," said King. He cited instances where lives had been lost in train wrecks, the latest just days ago in Chicago and inferred that the accident might have been the result of only a three-man crew on the trains in Illinois.

He stated that contrary to the publicity given out concerning job security by the proponents of passage of Act 1, the guarantee is not all that it seems, and that he, as an extra board brakeman, feared his job would be insecure, if the Act should pass.

At the conclusion of the remarks by King, the meeting was opened for questions with King and Paul Bailey, a Missouri Pacific fireman, answering the questions. Again the Kiwanians were not bashful with their questions, and time ran out before every question was answered.

Guests at Tuesday's meeting were Rev. R. T. Jarrell, pastor of Bruce Memorial Church of Blevins, Rev. Ralph Madison, new pastor of Hope's Presbyterian Church, Jack King, Sr., father of the speaker, Paul Raley, former member of the Kiwanis Club, and Key Clubbers Wade Harris and David Bain.

Protestors riot at rally for President

BOSTON (AP) — Several thousand antiwar demonstrators smashed windows, burned a car and clashed with riot-equipped police outside a Republican fund-raising dinner attended by Pat Nixon.

An estimated 5,000 persons attended the $25 per plate affair inside Commonwealth Armory Tuesday night, while police estimated that as many as 8,000 persons demonstrated outside.

The President's wife, in a brief speech, thanked those who attended the dinner and said her husband needed another four years in office to "make this great country what we all want it to be."

Demonstrators, many of whom marched about 1 1/2 miles to the armory from Copley Square, staged a protest that lasted nearly four hours.

They blocked automobile and trolley traffic along Commonwealth Avenue, smashed storefront and car windows, shouted slogans and obscenities,

Boyleing it down

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — At 20 minutes to one on a fall Friday the young man with the mustache and Philadelphia Phillies baseball cap slammed a $5 bill on the bar and announced his retirement.

"It's the end of an era, buddy, and it might as well stop here. Give 'em all one on Mo."

With that Joseph "Mo" Mullarkey, a master of time and space in his early 20s, stepped down from a job that had made him a hero to his peers: driver of a beer truck.

Mullarkey's announcement drew the expected reaction from the older afternoon regulars in Lou's Place. Hands quickly shot out to empty the beer glasses; eyes flickered between the whisky shelf and the $5 bill on the bar.

But two young guys next to Mullarkey groaned.

"Impossible," said one. "Say it ain't so Mo," said the other, smiling a bit that he used the line.

"Amen, I say unto you," said Mullarkey, giving his shoulder-length hair a tug and breaking into his madman sizzle.

The two guys returned to their beers, but they weren't through. Both were fresh out of college and headed for computer and life insurance lives. Driving a beer truck was the modern dream. Ah, the romance of it all.

"I mean, it's got everything," said one. "Good money, no hassles. You're out there cruising, man. You can do anything you want."

"Kegs," said Mullarkey.

"Huh?"

"I'll never lift another one in my life," he went on. "They're heavy, buddy. And it's gettin' cold again. A whoo ah when it's cold, buddybud."

He took a swig from his beer. "They think you're always stoned, too," he said.

The bartender brought more drinks. There was some idle talk. Then:

"Well, what are you going to do now?" one of the young guys asked Mullarkey.

"I got something good, buddy," he said. "Old Mo's coming out of the cold."

"You going on unemployment?" someone asked.

"Nope. Going to be an optometrist's assistant," said Mullarkey. He didn't bat an eye.

Silence.

"Yep," he continued. "I'm going to measure people's heads."

Sudden silence and then you could even hear the grins.

"He's beautiful," said one of the guys.

"A winner again," said the other.

"Let me have the salt, will ya?" said Mullarkey. He dabbed some at the beer, drained the glass and picked up his change in one movement and headed for the door.

beef with an auto repair shop, they can tell their troubles to a new state consumer protection agency.

It's part of what state officials regard as the most sophisticated government-backed auto consumer protection plan in the nation.

To stay in business, all of California's approximately 35,000 auto repair shops must have a $50 license from the California Bureau of Automotive Repair.

The law that created the bureau last March says a license can be revoked or suspended for — among other things — "any willful departure from or disregard of accepted trade standards for good and workmanlike repair."

For instance, a driver in the San Francisco area recently paid more than $300 to have his car engine replaced, then found the original engine was still in the car. A bureau investigation resulted in a criminal complaint charging the garage owner with grand theft.

Bureau Director Robert Alexander says his agency is the only one of its kind in the nation. It was created as a unit of the state Department of Consumer Affairs.

In the first three months of this fiscal year, the auto repair bureau handled 7,436 complaints, Alexander said in an interview. The figure represented more than one-third of all consumer complaints logged during the period.

Alexander's agency doesn't handle new car warranty disputes and it doesn't step in on auto repair cases until the customer has complained unsuccessfully to the garage owner.

The bureau will then call the garage owner, let him know there has been a complaint and try to work things out so everyone is happy.

About two out of three cases are settled that way, Alexander said.

Dr. West dinner speaker

BATESVILLE—Dr. Dan C. West, president of Arkansas College, will tell the story of Arkansas College and its plans for the future, at an informational dinner scheduled Tuesday, Nov. 7, at the Town and Country Restaurant in Hope at 7 p.m.

Friends, alumni of the college and interested persons are invited to attend and should contact Dr. Bill Capps, 777-8216, for reservations.

Dr. West assumed duties as AC president on Aug. 1, after serving as coordinator of research and development at Austin College in Sherman, Tex. At age 33, he is the youngest college president in Arkansas and one of the youngest in the nation.

He attended the U.S. Naval Academy for three years and is a graduate of Austin College. He received the Bachelor of Divinity degree from Union Theological Seminary, and earned the Doctor of Divinity degree from Vanderbilt University in 1969.

During the summer of 1967, Dr. West exchanged pulpits with the minister of the Monkstown Presbyterian Church in Belfast, Northern Ireland. Since leaving the pastorate he has been involved with a self-directed study toward higher education innovation, especially new approaches to teaching and learning.

Dr. West is married to the former Sidney Claire Childs. The Wests have two children.

Old dogs need... NEW YORK (UPI)—A dog may need a change in feeding as he gets beyond middle age. Veterinarians say food with a good quality protein in more easily digested by the older dog. In some cases vitamin supplementation may be indicated.

By Oswald & James Jacoby
About a hundred years ago a writer named James Clay proposed a double dummy whist problem with the statement that the most celebrated player in Vienna looked at it and instantly said, "South makes all the tricks."

It turned out to be surprisingly difficult for the whist players of that day and the key play in the hand has since been called the "Vienna coup." The Vienna coup consists of setting up a trick for an opponent and then squeezing him out of it.

There was no bidding at whist, so we have changed the cards slightly and proceeded to misbid the hand all the way up to seven no-trump.

The term "double dummy" means that all four hands are exposed and everyone

Talk continues as Nixon increases lead

By R. GREGORY NOKES
Associated Press Writer
Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has urged "deprivation of freedom" for draft-dodgers and deserters, but Sen. George McGovern says the Republicans are raising the issue of amnesty to make people forget about more important issues.

"His strategy is clear," McGovern said Tuesday of President Nixon's campaign. "If he can work up enough anger and fear over amnesty, perhaps the American people will forget about jobs and prices and taxes."

The latest Harris Survey Tuesday showed President Nixon had increased his lead over McGovern for the first time since early September, leading 60 per cent to 32 per cent among those polled.

McGovern, the Democratic presidential candidate, and Agnew both talked of amnesty during Tuesday campaigning.

Agnew, speaking at a sewer dedication ceremony in Warren, Mich., said: "I'm not at all concerned at attempting to unite the typical draft-dodger with the rest of the country."

"I'd rather see the rest of the country—literally hundreds of thousands of people who did serve—united in a conviction that they did the right thing and that their country appreciates what they did," he said.

McGovern said at East Brunswick, N.J., that while he understands "the agony of a parent who has lost a son they love in this war ... we cannot bring a single mother's son back from a Vietnamese grave by keeping another mother's son in Canadian exile."

Sargent Shriver, the Democratic candidate for vice president, referred to the war Tuesday, saying he welcomed the prospect of a peace agreement, but added: "The price which we will have to pay for that piece of paper—which we don't have as yet—I think is exorbitant."

Campaigning in San Francisco, Shriver said: "If that's peace with honor, I'd like to know what surrender is." He also said, "I don't see any difference between what President Nixon announced and what he denounced four years ago. I don't see the difference between what he's got and what he used to call surrender."

President Nixon is scheduled to make a radio speech on urban problems today and a nationwide television-radio speech is scheduled Thursday night.

McGovern, who appeared in New Jersey and New York with Sen. Edward Kennedy Tuesday, will address a rally in New York's garment district today. He will fly later to Kibbing, Minn., and Chicago.

Shriver was in Portland, Ore., and planned to campaign today at Seattle; Missoula, Mont., and Champaigne-Urbana, Ill.

Agnew, who dined with singer-actor Frank Sinatra Tuesday night, is scheduled to receive Israel's Medalion of Valor at a ceremony in Los Angeles tonight.

People in the News

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Jacqueline Onassis is named as a $1,000 contributor to the re-election campaign of Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I.

Mrs. Onassis, who was the wife of President John F. Kennedy, is listed on the official contribution reporting form at the Rhode Island State House as a housewife.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Debbie Reynolds and her husband Harry Karl are named in a Superior Court suit seeking $16.2 million damages in which he is accused of gambling away $1 million in company funds and cheating his sister.

The suit against Miss Reynolds and Karl, the former owner of a shoe store group, was filed Tuesday by Karl's sister, Sarah Karl Pollack, and her three children.

The suit charges that Karl made misrepresentations to his sister about the company's financial condition that caused her to hold 7,100 shares of stock she and her children owned.

The stock declined in value from $7 million to $800,000, the suit charged. It also said Karl lost about $1 million in company funds in Las Vegas casinos and at the Friars Club in Beverly Hills.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tricia Nixon Cox has hosted some 150 children and their foster grandparents from the ACTION program at a White House Halloween party.

takes full advantage of this.

South wins the heart lead in dummy and runs off four clubs, while discarding a spade from dummy. West discards a diamond on the third club; his best discard on the fourth one is a heart.

Now comes the Vienna coup. South must cash his ace of spades! Next comes the parade of the rest of dummy's hearts. South winds up with the ace-queen and a small diamond and West must either unguard his jack of diamonds or discard the king of spades.

Either way the grand slam wheels in because East started with just king and one diamond.
